Description

Early bird pricing will slowly increase over the next few months. We are booking the Springhill Suites again, so it will be live in Colorado Springs. You also will be able to attend live virtually, and virtual replays will be available. We plan more lounge time, networking and breakout workshops so you can implement and integrate. You will be able to change your mind from virtual to in person or visa versa, so don't worry about your choice right now! We will confirm with you next year again several times! Please commit at the early bird pricing and we look forward to seeing you next year!
